LIVESCAN

HOW DOES LIVESCAN WORK?

The true identity of an individual can be established through the submission of fingerprints. Livescan technology replaces the manual process of recording and individual's fingerprint pattern using an inkless electronic process. Livescan digitizes the fingerprint characteristics that make fingerprints unique and enables the electronic transfer of the fingerprints and personal data to the Department of Justice (DOJ) in seconds.

Once the DOJ receives the fingerprints and data the Automated Fingerprint Identification System (AFIS) and National Transaction Management System (NATMS) process them. Most are processed electronically but the few that are not are forwarded to the DOJ's Applicant Response Unit for analysis.

WHO NEEDS LIVESCAN?

Applicants for employment, licenses, certifications, volunteers at schools and nonprofit organizations.

All who are, or will be, involved in the care and security of children, the elderly, or the handicapped or mentally impaired. Can be full or part-time; paid or volunteer; or independent contractors and their employees.
